FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Place des Artistes de Farrelton (PAF) and STO Union are pleased to present: “Intersections”

FARRELLTON, APRIL 30, 2019 – “Intersections” is a meeting of mind, creativity and community, presented the May 16, 2019 by Farrelton Artists’ Space (PAF-FAS) and STO Union, held as part of the 4th stop of the Digital Tour – Tournée numérique organized by Culture Outaouais, Théâtre Action and Arts Network Ottawa.

Led by professionals in the arts and sciences, “Intersections” brings together communities and artists with people who know a lot about something specific (experts). Experts teach us what they know and communities, led by artists, make something with the new knowledge we’ve gained. This year we are looking at the digital disruption that is altering our world and we are thrilled to be part of the Digital Tour. This unique event looks to demystify and concretely appropriate the digital world in a series of 5 events, a groundbreaking meeting between of 14 arts and culture organizations from across both sides of the Ottawa River.

This PAF-STO Union collaboration will be presented alongside PAF’s Open House and Spring Art Sale and is the second meeting in the Intersections program.

Join us on May 26, 2019 as artists cj fleury, Sally Lee Sheeks, Cryote and Nadia Ross propose creative plans that will help us humans get a grasp on the new digital territory, as explained by experts Patrick Boily and Jen Schellink.
